PERSONS DAY

On October 18th, 1929, a historic decision to include women in the legal definition of “persons” was handed down by what was then Canada’s highest court of appeal – the Judicial Committee of the Privy Council of Great Britain.

LEAF’s annual Persons Day Event is held to commemorate that ruling, which resulted in women becoming eligible to sit in the Canadian Senate, and all the important advancements to the equality rights of an even broader group of Canadian women that have followed.

The Persons Day Event is LEAF’s signature fundraiser and attracts an audience of over 500 people from the legal, feminist, academic, corporate and union sectors. Since its inception, it has raised over $4 million to help LEAF continue its mission of advancing substantive equality for women and girls in Canada.

ABOUT LEAF

Women’s Legal Education and Action Fund

Founded in 1985, the Women’s Legal Education and Action Fund (LEAF) is Canada’s only national non-profit organization dedicated to advancing equality rights for women and girls through the courts, as well as through law reform and public education. It is, in effect, the litigation arm of Canada’s women’s movement.

LEAF regularly appears before the Supreme Court of Canada and has been integral to shaping equality rights in Canada, particularly in respect of sexual assault laws and reproductive rights. Over its 33 year history, LEAF has intervened in over 150 precedent-setting cases related to women’s equality and has achieved numerous victories in the courts.

LEAF most recently intervened at the Supreme Court of Canada in the appeal of the Ontario Court of Appeal’s decision in R. v. Jarvis, a case regarding a male high school teacher who used a camera pen to secretly film his female students’ cleavage. The Court of Appeal found that, in the circumstances, these students had no reasonable expectation of privacy, presenting women attending school with an unpalatable choice: accept the risk that you will be the subject of technology-facilitated sexual violence, or stay home. LEAF urged the Supreme Court to apply an equality lens to the interpretation of the voyeurism provision in the Criminal Code of Canada, to take into account the highly gendered nature of this crime, and provide meaningful protection for women’s sexual integrity in public life.

WHY SPONSOR LEAF?

LEAF is a rarity in the not-for-profit sector, demonstrating tangible results year after year. The funding LEAF receives directly supports our vital work in advancing substantive equality rights for women and girls in Canada through litigation, law reform, and public education. LEAF’s interventions in high-profile cases before the Supreme Court of Canada have not only shaped the Charter of Rights and Freedoms – they have shaped the national conversation.

SPONSORSHIP OPPORTUNITIES

Please join us October 9 to celebrate LEAF's achievements in advancing equality rights for women in Canada

This year we will gather at the Bram and Bluma Appel Salon of the Toronto Reference Library for a cocktail-style reception featuring a selection of drinks and hors d'oeuvres throughout the room.

The evening will include an update on our recent legal interventions and a special presentation of The Ghomeshi Effect, a dance-theatre performance examining sexual violence.

The Ghomeshi Effect is a documentary play that tackles sexual violence and the legal system in Canada through an edited series of documented interviews and uses dance to inform and interrogate the language used in the discussion of sexual violence.

“Working with a choreographer and a theatre director who integrate their own visions of space, voice, and movement into the traumatic encounters examined by this text, six actors/dancers take us swirling away into a contemporary nightmare world that has cultivated rape culture ... The result is a powerful performance.”
